

Furniture trends – 10 looks that will take center stage in 2024, according to interior designers

From sustainable materials to chic retro influences, we've asked a collection of designers to share their thoughts on the furniture trends that will shape our interior spaces in 2024

BY JENNIFER EBERT
LAST UPDATED 2 DAYS AGO

CONTRIBUTIONS FROM
ZARA STACEY

While we're all for timeless, classic design, it's always fun to spot new furniture trends, and refresh your space with the very latest in interior design.

Whether you're looking for a new sofa, side table or are simply intrigued by the 2024 furniture trends forecast by designers, the new year is often a time when we start to explore the latest interior design trends, and think about updating existing pieces of furniture in our homes.

To help guide you in the right style direction and offer the very latest insight from the experts, we have curated a collection of the top furniture trends you need to know about for the year ahead.

10 Furniture Trends Set To Dominate Design In 2024

There is a lot to explore and unpack for 2024 furniture trends; from curvaceous silhouettes, to statement stoneware and reclaimed styles of the past, these are the top 10 looks and design ideas that will shape furniture styles this year.

2. SLIM SHAKER KITCHEN CABINETS

(Image credit: PJCArchitecture, Photography by Bjorg Magnea)

We have seen a big rise in the popularity of Shaker kitchens in 2023, and this style continues to dominate kitchen trends in 2024.

For a contemporary twist on this classic kitchen cabinet trend, Philip Consalvo, principal of PJCArchitecture says, 'In kitchen design, homeowners are looking for styles that are not too modern and not too traditional, and over the last year, we have been seeing increased interest in a “Slim Shaker” cabinetry style. The transitional look sits somewhere in between a flat slab door and a traditional shaker door, with slim trim detailing creating an overall sleek and elevated design.'

Philip J Consalvo

Principal of PJCArchitecture

Philip J. Consalvo, established PJCArchitecture in 1998. He possesses over 25 years of professional practice experience covering a range of design projects in New York and New Jersey.
